

WAH CENTER

OPEN CALL TO ARTISTS WAH CENTER'S "HORROR HOUSE"

Exhibition October 8 – October 23, 2016

Opening Saturday, October 8 from 4-6PM

Curated by Terrance Lindall

The WAH Center (Williamsburg Art & Historical Center) is now accepting submissions for HORROR HOUSE, an international juried exhibition and silent auction. HORROR HOUSE explores and pays homage to Williamsburg's rich and influential cultural history. In this spirit of celebration, our open call provides an opportunity for outstanding artists to showcase work to new audiences in Williamsburg - the heart of Brooklyn's art community. It also allows for artists to take part in the WAH Center's HORROR HOUSE Silent Auction, in honor of the dead.

The WAH Center is housed in New York City Landmark Kings County Savings Bank (built in 1867) and on the National Register of Historic Places. This French Second Empire architectural treasure offers artists a visually stunning and unique exhibition space.

DEADLINE: SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 3RD (midnight) 2016

ACCEPTANCE: Notification of accepted work will be sent via email by Sunday September 10th, 2016

ELIGIBILITY: This call for entries is open to all international artists, working in any medium. Submissions must be for the specific works you intend to exhibit. Applications must be submitted via email: please see complete instructions below. Artists are responsible for the shipment and delivery of their work. Further requirements for accepted work to follow upon selection.
